Accident investigation Training.

Reporting accidents and ill health at work is a legal requirement. Workplace accidents can happen anywhere and at any time. Not being fully prepared for something that should be resolved quickly can end up being problematic and expensive if your response is ineffective and disorganized. Effective investigation and reporting of accidents and near misses gives invaluable information to help businesses improve their health and safety procedures, and rectify the cause to ensure that the problem does not occur again. This training course highlights the main points of carrying out an effective investigation.
